About This Trip

Spend four unforgettable days in San Francisco this December, from the glittering ice rink and towering tree in Union Square to a cable car ride over Nob Hill and down to the bay. Wander Fisherman's Wharf, sip cocoa under a mile of lights at Golden Gate Park's Lightscape, and walk among ancient redwoods at Muir Woods before exploring the seaside charm of Sausalito. With three at the Courtyard Union Square, a hop-on-hop-off bus pass, two dinners, daily breakfast, and a Trips Unlimited host by the whole way, this trip is holiday San Francisco at its best, easy, festive, and unforgettable.

Arrival & Union Square

Thursday, December 10

A short rideshare brings us to the Courtyard by Marriott, right in the heart of Union Square and our home for the next three nights.

Once we have settled in, the afternoon is yours and there is no better introduction to the city than Union Square dressed for the holidays. The towering Macy's tree anchors the square, the outdoor ice rink glides along beneath the lights, and the beloved Macy's SF SPCA windows are filled with adoptable puppies and kittens. We have our two-day hop-on-hop-off bus pass ready, so anyone who would like a relaxed orientation loop of the city can hop aboard and start getting the lay of the land.

This evening we gather for a warm welcome dinner to toast the trip and the days ahead.

Cable Cars & the Waterfront

Friday, December 11

Enjoy breakfast this morning on your daily credit, at the hotel or a nearby spot of your choosing. Then we lean into the most classic San Francisco day of all. We will ride the Powell-Hyde cable car, decorated for the season, up and over Nob Hill, past the famous curves of Lombard Street, and down to the bay with sweeping views along the way.

The waterfront is ours to explore at an easy pace. Visit the sea lions at Pier 39, wander Fisherman's Wharf, and step into Ghirardelli Square for a little chocolate. There is plenty of free time to browse, take photos, and enjoy lunch on your own, and our bus pass is good all day for getting around.

This evening, dinner is on your own. The wharf is a wonderful spot for it, and the classic Scoma's is a longtime favorite if you would like a recommendation.

Muir Woods & Sausalito

Saturday, December 12

After breakfast on your credit, we cross the Golden Gate Bridge for a guided half-day tour of Muir Woods National Monument, where we will walk the shaded paths beneath ancient coastal redwoods that have stood for centuries. From there we visit Sausalito, a charming Mediterranean-style village on the bay with lovely shops, galleries, and waterfront views.

We are back in the city by early afternoon, and the rest of the day is yours, perhaps shopping around Union Square, exploring Chinatown, or visiting the Ferry Building. As evening falls, we head to Golden Gate Park for Lightscape, an enchanting after-dark stroll along a mile-long trail of more than a million lights, glowing sculptures, music, and water features, with hot cocoa to warm your hands. Afterward we gather for a warm dinner together to cap the day.

Sunday, December 13

Because our flight home is an overnight red-eye, there is no need to rush. The hotel will hold our luggage after checkout, so we can make the most of the day, grab a bite before heading to the airport, and fly home overnight, arriving on Monday morning rested and full of memories.
