What Is a Front Row Trip?

Front Row is our collection of once-a-year, can't-miss events, the big American celebrations people put on their bucket lists. Think St. Patrick's Day in Savannah, the Kentucky Derby, and the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. These dates come around only once, the best spots go fast, and trying to do them on your own usually means fighting crowds for a view you can barely see. On a Front Row trip, we've already locked in the good seats, the private spaces, and the details, so you get to simply enjoy the moment.

In Savannah, that means a private St. Patrick's Day party at the Savannah Theatre with dedicated bleacher seating right on the parade route, food and drinks all day, and your own restrooms. Add two full days in the most charming city in the South and a hostess who takes care of every last detail, and all that's left for you to do is show up in green.

Your Day-by-Day Itinerary

Day 1 | Tuesday, March 16 | Welcome to Savannah

Land in Savannah and let the fun start right at the curb. Airport shuttles run between 12:00 and 4:00 PM, and we'll send your exact pickup time once everyone's flights are booked. The shuttle brings you straight to the hotel, where a welcome reception is waiting. You'll get your room key, a Savannah map marked up with all the good stuff, and a first look at the ladies you'll be sharing this adventure with.

Once you've had a chance to freshen up, we hop the shuttle to dinner, and it comes with a little something extra. Before we eat, we're rolling up our sleeves for a craft class where you'll make something GREEN to wear to the parade tomorrow. Then we settle in for dinner together to swap stories and admire everyone's handiwork. After dinner, the night is yours. Head back to the hotel for some rest or go see what the city is already celebrating.

Day 2 | Wednesday, March 17 | St. Patrick's Day, Front Row

Put on your greenest green, ladies, and wear that craft with pride. This morning we walk together to our private party at the Savannah Theatre, an easy stroll of about 20 minutes through the squares as the whole city wakes up in shamrocks. If walking isn't your friend today, no worries at all. We'll drive you as close to the party as the parade closures allow, typically within five or six blocks, so you arrive with plenty of energy to spare.

Breakfast is waiting for us when we arrive. The parade steps off around 9:15 AM and reaches the theatre about 30 minutes later, and you'll watch it all from dedicated bleachers reserved just for our party. Bagpipes, marching bands, floats, and a sea of green that has to be seen to be believed, all from the best seat on the route.

And you won't go hungry or thirsty. Food and snacks are served all day long, along with Bloody Marys, wine, beer, and sodas. Best of all, the party has its own restrooms, which on parade day is worth its weight in gold. So grab a drink, find your spot, and raise a glass to the Irish.

Whenever you're ready, the rest of the day is yours. Wander River Street, catch live Irish music, people-watch in the squares, or slip back to the hotel for a nap and head out again tonight. Savannah celebrates until late, and you can join in as much or as little as you please.

Day 3 | Thursday, March 18 | Historic Savannah, Bonaventure, and Tybee

Today is all about the beauty and the stories of this city. After breakfast at the hotel, we start with an overview tour of the Historic District, rolling past the moss-draped squares, grand old homes, and church spires that make Savannah one of the loveliest cities in America.

Next we head to Bonaventure Cemetery for a guided tour. Don't let the word cemetery fool you. This is one of the most beautiful and peaceful places in the South, with sweeping live oaks, Spanish moss, and remarkable stories around every bend.

From there we head out to Tybee Island, where lunch is on your own. Grab some fresh seafood, dip your toes in the sand, or just soak up that salty island air.

On the way back into town, we stop on Wilmington Island for a Savannah Bee Company tour with honey tasting. Fair warning, you will not leave empty-handed. Then it's back to the hotel to put your feet up and freshen up for the evening.

It's a full day, and we end it right. This evening we gather one last time for a farewell dinner together, the perfect way to toast the trip and the new friends you've made along the way.

Day 4 | Friday, March 19 | Homeward Bound

Enjoy breakfast at the hotel before the shuttle takes you back to the airport. Airport shuttles run between 8:00 and 11:00 AM, and we'll confirm your exact time once all flights are booked. You'll leave with a little Savannah sunshine, a few new friends, and a story or two about the year you had a front row seat to the best party in the South.
